FASHION UMBRELLA FOUNDATION

Event Registration, Ticketing & Participation
Terms and Conditions

Effective Date
November 13, 2026

1. Scope and Acceptance
These Terms and Conditions apply to events, workshops, classes, exhibitions, fundraising activities, performances, and other programs organized or presented by the Fashion Umbrella Foundation ("FUF"), including programs operated under its affiliated event or program names. By purchasing or accepting a ticket, registering, or participating, the purchaser and attendee agree to these Terms, subject to applicable law. A purchaser registering others is responsible for communicating applicable event requirements to those attendees. Event-specific requirements disclosed in an event listing, ticket description, checkout page, or confirmation form part of these Terms. If an event-specific requirement conflicts with these general Terms, the more specific disclosed requirement controls unless prohibited by law.

2. Registration and Accurate Attendee Information
Purchasers must provide complete and accurate information requested for the particular event. Where individual attendee names are required, each ticket must identify the person who will actually attend; the purchaser's name must not be entered repeatedly for different attendees. Repeated names may be reviewed as potential duplicate registrations. FUF may request corrections by a communicated deadline and may cancel and refund affected duplicate tickets if accurate names are not supplied. Duplicate names alone do not automatically establish fraud. Individual email addresses are required only when expressly stated for the event. Changes to attendee names require FUF approval and are not guaranteed.

3. Payment and Confirmation
Registration is not confirmed until the applicable payment is accepted or FUF issues a complimentary registration confirmation. Prices, taxes, processing fees, and any optional charges will be disclosed during checkout as applicable. Purchasers are responsible for reviewing the order before submission. A confirmation or ticket is subject to verification and compliance with event requirements.

4. Refunds, Transfers, and Exchanges
Unless an event listing expressly provides otherwise, all ticket and registration sales are final, and guest-requested refunds, credits, transfers, and exchanges are not offered, except where required by applicable law. FUF may, at its discretion, approve an exception or issue an administrative refund, including for an affected duplicate registration. Such an exception does not establish a general refund entitlement. When FUF cancels an event, FUF will communicate available remedies, including refunds when required by law. Processing fees and taxes will be handled in accordance with applicable law and payment-platform rules.

5. Event Changes, Postponement, and Cancellation
FUF may make reasonable changes to schedules, instructors, artists, performers, program content, venue arrangements, and other event details. Material changes, postponements, or cancellations will be communicated through reasonable available channels. Any refund or other remedy will be determined by applicable law, the event-specific policy, and the circumstances. Nothing in these Terms limits nonwaivable consumer rights.

6. Admission, Seating, and Timeliness
Admission is subject to a valid registration or ticket, event capacity, and compliance with published entry procedures. Seating may be assigned, reserved by category, or managed by event staff as disclosed for the event. Unauthorized seat changes are not permitted where seating is controlled. Late arrival may result in delayed entry or seating during a suitable program break. Identification may be requested where reasonably necessary and disclosed, subject to applicable law and accommodations.

7. Age Restrictions and Minors
Age minimums and requirements for adult supervision vary by event and will be stated in the applicable listing. A parent or legal guardian must register or consent for a minor when required. A ticket or registration does not create childcare or supervision services unless expressly offered in writing.

8. Accessibility and Accommodations
FUF welcomes accommodation requests and will consider them in accordance with applicable disability-access laws. Attendees should use the contact method published for the event as early as practicable so arrangements can be evaluated. FUF will not impose a blanket deadline that extinguishes legally required accommodation rights.

9. Conduct, Safety, and Venue Rules
Attendees must follow lawful venue rules and reasonable directions from event staff. Threats, harassment, violence, dangerous conduct, intentional property damage, and material disruption may result in removal or refusal of admission. Decisions will be made consistently with applicable nondiscrimination and accessibility obligations. Removal for misconduct does not ordinarily entitle an attendee to a refund, except as required by law.

10. Prohibited Items and Security
Any event-specific prohibited-item list, bag policy, or screening requirement will be disclosed where practicable. Weapons and unlawful items are prohibited. Security measures must comply with applicable law and venue policies. Attendees who decline lawful, reasonably required screening may be denied entry, subject to applicable rights and accommodations.

FASHION UMBRELLA FOUNDATION

11. Photography, Video, and Publicity
Photography, audio, and video recording may occur at FUF events. FUF may use incidental images or recordings of attendees for event documentation, reporting, publicity, and archival purposes to the extent permitted by law. Separate permission will be obtained where required, including for uses that require express consent or for minors where applicable. Attendees with concerns may contact event staff; FUF cannot guarantee exclusion from all crowd or background imagery. Attendee photography and recording may be restricted by event-specific rules.

12. Tickets, Resale, and Unauthorized Reproduction
Tickets and registrations may not be duplicated, counterfeited, or used for unauthorized commercial resale or promotion. FUF may investigate suspected misuse and invalidate tickets obtained through fraud or unauthorized reproduction, subject to applicable law. Tickets purchased through unauthorized sources may not be verifiable.

13. Donations and Fundraising
A ticket or registration payment is not automatically a charitable donation. The tax treatment of any payment depends on the nature of the event, the value of benefits received, and applicable tax rules. Any charitable contribution acknowledgment or deductible amount will be communicated separately when applicable. Donations made independently of ticket purchases are subject to FUF's applicable donation and gift-acceptance policies.

14. Payment Disputes
Purchasers should contact FUF using the event's published contact channel to seek resolution of billing concerns. This does not restrict any legal right to dispute a charge. FUF may submit purchase records, disclosed policies, registration details, and attendance documentation to a payment processor in response to a dispute. Knowingly fraudulent activity may be reported or addressed through lawful means.

15. Personal Information
FUF uses registration information to administer events, communicate essential details, verify attendance, and meet legal or accounting obligations. Personal information is handled under FUF's applicable Privacy Policy. Marketing communications, where offered, are subject to applicable consent and opt-out requirements.

16. Events Beyond Reasonable Control
Circumstances outside FUF's reasonable control, including severe weather, emergencies, government restrictions, public health incidents, utility failures, and venue unavailability, may affect an event. FUF will communicate material changes when reasonably possible. This provision does not waive remedies or obligations imposed by applicable law.

17. Responsibility and Applicable Law
Attendees are responsible for their own belongings and for complying with reasonable safety instructions. Nothing in these Terms excludes liability or rights that cannot lawfully be excluded. These Terms are interpreted under applicable Maryland law, without limiting mandatory protections that may apply elsewhere.

18. Policy Updates and Event-Specific Notices
FUF may update these Terms prospectively. The version presented or linked at the time of registration ordinarily governs that transaction, subject to lawful event-specific modifications and mandatory legal requirements. Material changes affecting an existing purchase will be communicated when required.

19. Contact and Acknowledgment
Questions about registration, event requirements, accessibility, or billing should be directed to the contact channel identified on the applicable event listing or confirmation. By completing registration or accepting admission, attendees acknowledge the applicable Terms and event-specific rules, to the extent enforceable under law.

Checkout Acknowledgment – Ticketing & Registration
By completing this registration or purchase, I acknowledge that I have reviewed, understand, and agree to the Fashion Umbrella Foundation Ticketing Terms & Conditions Policy and all applicable event-specific requirements.

All sales are final, except as expressly provided in the policy or required by applicable law. When individual attendee names are required, each ticket must identify the actual person attending. Duplicate guest names may require correction, and affected tickets may be canceled and refunded by the Fashion Umbrella Foundation.

Implementation Note (Internal — remove before public posting)
Publish the master terms at a stable FUF website URL and link them at checkout. For each event, clearly display its date, venue disclosure timing, age policy, attendee-name requirements, refund/cancellation information, seating or entry rules, and any additional consent requirements. Have Maryland counsel review before adopting as a binding organization-wide policy.